UPCOMING WORKSHOPS

PHOTOSHOP WORKSHOP: Price: $75

Instructor: Mira Steinzor

This one-day workshop teaches beginners the basics of Photoshop. Topics covered include: layers, noise removal, color balance, levels, curves, burning, dodging, selective color, removing objects from background, feathering, liquefying, and simple retouching. I provide sample photos for students to edit, and I encourage students to bring in their own "problem photos" to fix as well.

Session Length: 6 hours

Class Size: Small

Available Sessions: Fridays on April 16, 23, 30.

FINAL CUT PRO – NON-LINEAR EDITING WORKSHOP: Price: $75

Instructor: Yosuke Hosoi

This one-day workshop provides you with a practical introduction to digital non-linear editing, using the latest version of Final Cut Pro software. Students learn proper format, view windows, logging, capturing, editing video, basic effects, transitions, titling and exporting the finished project.

No experience is needed. You will be able to make a DVD of your film by the end of the workshop, or upload it on Youtube and share it with your friends. Tell your story through film editing, which can be fiction, documentary, or experimental.

Session Length: 6 hours

Class Size: Small

Available Sessions: Saturdays, April 17, 24, and May 1

BLOGGING WORKSHOP: Price: $15

Instructor: Steven Maginnis

This one-day workshop covers the steps to create a blogging account, posting, controlling the settings, publishing, formatting, archiving, controlling the site feed, and the ins and outs of reader's comments. After this blogging workshop, you will be able to create and run your own blog. A great opportunity for social networking.

Steven Maginnis is the author of Miscellaneous Musings, a blog featuring regular commentary on a variety of topics. He is a writer and editor whose articles and essays have appeared in numerous print and online publications including: In print, the Daily Record of Morris County, New Jersey; and Entertainment Today of Los Angeles, California; and on the web, In Music We Trust and the Cynic Online Magazine.

Session Length: 3-4 hours

Class Size: Small

Available Sessions: Wednesdays on April 15, 22, and 29

LIGHTING WORKSHOP: Price: $75

Instructor: Ted Ciesielski

This is a one day workshop in two parts: The first part focuses on the philosophy and theory of lighting. Clips of horror and romance films are used as examples of how lighting is used in different genres to convey a specific meaning. Part two is hands on. Students learn how to set up lighting equipment and how to use the equipment to their best advantage.

Ted Ciesielski is a director of photography with over two decades of experience. He specializes in time lapse cinematography and has an extensive background in both 16mm and 35mm film. Ted is a graduate of the world-renowned National Film School in Lodz, Poland.

Session Length: 6 hours

Class size: Small

Available Sessions: Mondays, April 12, 13, and 14.
